“The purpose of the Barry M. Goldwater Scholarship and Excellence in Education Program is to alleviate a critical current and future shortage of highly qualified scientists, mathematicians, and engineers.”

The focus is research—not application. They do not want to support students who will be work-a-day doctors, engineers, or corporate support staff.
EVALUATION CRITERIA

- Academic Achievement
  - Grades, level of courses, awards, scholarships
- Progress Toward Research Goals
  - Research activities, career goals, course work
- Research Essay
  - Technical content, bibliography, organization/grammar
- Letters of Recommendation
  - Commitment to research, intellectual curiosity, potential for research contributions

Equal weight is given to each evaluation criteria.
Review Steps

- Carry out a “30-second” review
  - GPA above 3.5
  - Plan for PhD in an appropriate field
  - Commitment to research career
- Carry out team review
  - Evaluation of entire application
  - Selection of scholars and at-large candidates
- Carry out further review of at-large pool
  - Review by 2-3 additional independent reviewers
SCHOLAR CHARACTERISTICS

• GPA > 3.75.
• Course work consistent to meet graduate school goals.
• Research experience or well-developed research plan.
• Application where every response suggests a research career.
• In-depth essay concentrating on expected or obtained research results.
• Three strong letters of recommendation. One should be a mentor letter.
Nominees with certain career fields must verify a research career commitment.

- Civil Engineering – build bridges vs research
- Computer Science – programmer vs research
- MD/PhD – clinical vs research
- Psychology – clinical or industrial vs science research
Research Activities

- Outline each research activity.
  - On- and off-campus.
  - Research component(s) of internships
- Identify research that leads to presentations, posters, papers, etc.
  - OK to identify “in preparation” papers
- Conduct research consistent with major
- Seek letters of recommendation from research supervisor/mentor.
PROFESSIONAL ASPIRATIONS

• Detail current and future academic programs that lead to career goal
• Outline plans for graduate school at doctoral level—possible graduate schools identified
• Include, if appropriate, postdoctoral research and grant activities
• Indicate sources of research experience
  • Independent study and internships
  • Honors thesis
  • Graduate and postdoctoral research projects
Personal Information

- Personal information is optional.
  - Complete this section
  - Use of personal information is a minor factor compared to major evaluation criteria
- Level of detail is left to you
- Personal information is never negative in the review
- Helpful for nominees who have non-traditional background or an inconsistency in the application.
  - Impact of economic or ethnic background
  - Impact of employment as undergraduate
The research essay must demonstrate knowledge base and reinforce research career.
  • Curing cancer or AIDS is too broad.
• Write to the expertise of the reviewer.
• Detailed, technical language is expected.
  • Bibliography should include refereed journal references.
  • Diagrams and figures can be helpful.
• Background should not exceed 50% of essay.
• Interpretation of obtained or expected results is very helpful.
• Faculty input and review are essential.
LETTERS

FACULTY SHOULD
• Write a detailed 1-2 page letter.
  • Not an application for grad school or a job
• Concentrate on motivation and potential for a research career.
  • ‘A’ student is assumed
  • Avoid “turned in assignments on time,” etc.
  • Avoid “how difficult my course is,” etc.
  • OK for nominee to be a “nerd”
• Compare to other students who have gone on to PhD programs and research careers.
  • Evaluation at comparable stage of nominee’s career
REASONS APPLICATIONS DO NOT SUCCEED

- Weak or inconsistent letters of reference from research faculty
- Poor choice in selecting individuals to write letters of recommendation
- Poorly written research essay
- Inconsistent application in areas that speak to a research career
- Lower grades in comparison to scholar average GPA
APPLICANT CHECKLIST

• Complete all sections of the application.

• Make a consistent, strong case for a research career.

• Include all research activities, presentations, posters and papers.

• Consider the essay a miniature research proposal.

• Select the three best individuals to write letters of recommendation.

• Evaluate and proofread multiple times.
• Campus Deadline: Tuesday, November 15

• National Deadline: Friday, January 27 (5:00pm Central Time)
Complete online application. Hit submit. You will be sending it to our office (not to Goldwater, so don’t worry).

Do not add your letter writers to the online application at this time.

Have 3 recommenders send letters to smccray@uark.edu.

Bring your transcript (from every college attended) and the two-page research essay to our office—Silas Hunt Hall 232 (attn: Jonathan Langley) by 5:00 pm on Tuesday, November 15.
